Stanford Public Interest Law Foundation Presents...

A COVERT AFFAIR
LICENSE TO BID

The 24th Annual Bid for Justice Auction

Stanford Law School
Saturday, April 16th
6:00 PM
The very first annual Bid for Justice Auction took place in 1992. For the past 24 years, SPILF has upheld the tradition of holding the auction as a celebration of public interest legal work and to raise funds for public interest projects in the Stanford and local communities.

Thank you for joining us tonight. Your support means so much to the public interest students and lawyers we fund, and the clients that they serve.

The Stanford Public Interest Law Foundation is a student organization dedicated to creating opportunities for law students and legal professionals to engage in critically needed public interest work. Through a variety of fundraising efforts, SPILF provides financial support to students, alumni, and organizations working in public interest law. SPILF’s goals are to:

- Bring legal services to those groups that would otherwise lack access to adequate legal representation;
- Strengthen the network of students and alumni involved with public interest;
- Provide training and support to students interested pursuing public interest work at Stanford Law School and after graduation; and
- Increase participation in and the visibility of public interest initiatives at Stanford.

SPILF has "seeded" many projects at the Law School, including Summer Funding, Post-Graduate Public Interest Fellowships, and the Public Interest Lawyer of the Year Awards, all of which have become institutions of the public interest community.

In addition, SPILF funds projects run by Stanford Law students that impact out community. Details of these projects are on the following page.

To support students pursuing careers in the public interest, SPILF provides bar grants to graduating 3Ls. These cash grants assist them with bar fees and study courses, to ease their financial burden at the outset of their careers. All students starting positions that involve working for underserved communities or the environment are eligible.
The SPILF Student Initiatives Grant Program supports student-run projects at Stanford that make a public interest impact in our community. In 2015, we received many great applications from a diverse group of applicants. The following programs were selected as SPILF Student Initiatives Grant recipients.

2015 Spring Funding Round

Project ReMADE: An SLS pro bono initiative aiming to facilitate the successful reentry of people returning home from prison and jail by fostering entrepreneurial aptitude and skills for those who are interested in pursuing self-employment.

Shaking the Foundations: An annual conference that brings together progressive legal minds from the West Coast and across the country to discuss present and future issues within the movement, explore the role of young lawyers, and encourage attendees to work toward social and environmental justice.

Housing Pro Bono Project: Working at Community Legal Services in East Palo Alto (CLSEPA). Housing Pro Bono volunteers assist low-income residents with housing and landlord-tenant issues.

Stanford National Lawyers Guild (NLG): The NLG seeks to bring together law students dedicated to harnessing the law as a tool to advance social justice and social movements. As the nation’s first racially integrated bar association, the NLG has a long history of standing with social movements that challenge systemic criminalization and marginalization of people of color.

Stanford Law Veterans Organization (SLVO): SLVO is composed of all current and former military and military-affiliated members of the SLS community. In addition to providing support and mentoring to members, SLVO works with other student groups to promote military and veterans’ legal issues to Stanford’s campus.

The Stanford Clemency Project: The Clemency Project is a new pilot program at Stanford that works with Clemency Project 2014, a national organization that submits petitions for clemency. Participants file petitions primarily for nonviolent offenders with limited criminal records who received unreasonably long sentences under outdated, now-repealed sentencing guidelines.

The Stanford Law School Student Animal Legal Defense Fund (SALDF): SALDF is dedicated to providing a forum for education, advocacy, and scholarship aimed at protecting the lives and interests of animals through the legal system. SALDF educates the law school and surrounding communities about forms of institutionalized animal abuse and engages in projects that combat that abuse.
2015 Fall Funding Round

The Environmental Pro Bono: The Environmental Pro Bono is currently conducting research for Communities for a Better Environment, a nonprofit operating in the Oakland/Richmond area. Members are researching and drafting possible regulations for air pollutant emissions from local refineries in the area that disproportionately affect communities of color and low-income people. The grant allowed members to go on a "toxic tour" of the area to learn about the environmental impact of refineries on these communities.

OUTLAW: OUTLAW is a Stanford Law School program that serves as a social, support, and political group actively combating homophobia, heterosexism, and any discrimination based on sexual orientation or gender identity. OUTLAW hosts social events, advocates for and on behalf of queer faculty, and presents panels focusing on academic and professional concerns of queer students.

Stanford Native American Law Students Association (NALSA): This student association raises awareness of Indian Law issues, provides mentorship, and builds affinity within the larger Native community. The grant supported the production and discussion of "A Sliver of a Full Moon," a play with important educational and cultural significance.

American Constitution Society for Law and Policy (ACS): ACS is a recently formed national organization of law students, law professors, judges, practicing lawyers and others. ACS seeks to restore the fundamental principles of respect for human dignity, protection of individual rights and liberties, genuine equality, and access to justice to their rightful—and traditionally central—place in American law.

The Stanford Black Law Students Association (BLSA): BLSA is a student-run organization that strives to provide career and academic support for black law students, law students of color, and the greater law school community. BLSA received a grant to prepare and serve food at a local homeless shelter called the Opportunity Center, as well as to support a community celebration event with the Mural, Music, and Arts Project, a nonprofit based in East Palo Alto.

The Levin Center: The Levin Center and SPLIF joined forces to send students to the Rebellious Lawyering ("RebLaw") conference at Yale Law School in February. RebLaw is a nationally recognized conference bringing together practitioners, law students, and community activists from around the country to discuss innovative, progressive approaches to law and social change.

About the Auction

Silent Auction

The Silent Auction opens at 6:00 PM and is located on the first and second floors of the Classroom Building. Bidders will record their bids on bid sheets in front of each item. Items will be awarded to one bidder only (the first name listed on a group bid), and group bids must be paid in a single payment.

The minimum bid and minimum raise for each item are shown on each bid sheet. To be valid, bids must comply with these minimums and be legible. A written bid constitutes a legal contract to purchase that silent auction item at the price you stated if your bid is the winning bid. The highest valid bid entered prior to closing will be the winner.

The Silent Auction will close at 8:00 PM. All bids must be recorded at that time in order to be considered.

Live Auction

Live auction bidding begins after the silent auction, promptly at 8:30 PM. When bidding, please raise your hand so that you may be identified by our auctioneer and ushers. A bid acknowledged by the auctioneer is a legal contract to purchase the item. If a group is bidding on one item, please designate one person to place your combined bid. Auction items will be awarded to one purchaser only.
Payment
Live Auction items must be paid for immediately after they are won. An usher will come to your seat, accept payment, and bring you back a receipt. All Silent Auction items must be paid for by the end of the evening at the entrance to Paul Brest Hall. For your convenience, we gladly accept American Express, Visa, and MasterCard, but cash or check are strongly preferred.

Pickup
Once you have paid for your items, you will be issued a receipt. Please present this receipt to the SPILF representative in Room 172 to claim your tangible items and/or certificates for services. Items must be claimed by May 1 or they will be forfeited without refund.

Tax Information
This catalog lists the fair market value of each item. Any amount you pay in excess of that amount may be available to you as a charitable contribution for tax purposes. Please check with your tax advisor for specifics.

Terms of Sale
Unless otherwise noted, all certificates for goods and services must be used by December 2016. All sales are final. There will be no exchanges or refunds.

SPILF does not make any expressed or implied warranties or guarantees regarding the quality or value of the items or services purchased at the Auction. SPILF has attempted to describe and catalog all items accurately, but please be aware that all items are offered and sold "AS IS."

SPILF has also attempted to be as accurate and inclusive about restrictions as possible. However, all items and services are subject to the terms and conditions specified by the donors. We recommend you contact the donor immediately to learn what you can and ensure you can claim your item. Reservations for trips and vacation accommodations must be mutually arranged with the donor unless otherwise noted. No refunds will be allowed on for canceled tickets and/or accommodations.

Poetic Justice
Are you a Real Person™? If so, that’s unfortunate, but Shelli and Alexandria are here for you! To experience an evening of life as Not A Real Person™, bid on this item. Spend hours with two regulation NARPs, splitting a bottle of bourbon and enjoying enchanting conversation about the exotic locales of Long Island and Alabama, pre-exam Vegas trips, and #1LOL moments. Afterwards, your new favorite people will compose beautiful verse to immortalize your time together.
Value: Priceless
Donated by: Alexandria Gilbert & Shelli Gimelstein
WHAT'S IN THE BOX?!?!?

This is a mystery box, donated by Stanford's most notorious text thread group. Does it include a voucher for a Saturday afternoon hangout with the boiz? Does it include a demo of Michael Rubin's forthcoming rap album? Does it include a Sean McElroy-annotated copy of the Tax Code? Does it include a now-irrelevant 19th Edition of the Bluebook? Does it include a Robert Curran-annotated copy of Mark Kelman's 1973 classic novel "What Followed Was Pure Lesley" (in case you lose that other bid)?

Value: Unknown

Donated by: Robert Curran, Courtney Khademi, Sean McElroy, John Mondel, Andrew Pike, Michael Rubin, & Steven Spriggs

Our sincere apologies for the following errors and omissions:

102
Meet Me at the Chateau
We forgot to tell you one important detail: this tasting is for up to 4 people.

112 - 119
Lots 112-115 are Lagunitas IPA, Lots 116 - 119 are Lagunitas Pils.

120 & 121
Keep Calm and Have a Glass of Wine
Too much time reading cases and we’ve forgotten how to do math. The bottles are valued at $50 apiece, so $150 per lot.

431
Choose Your Own Adventure
We got a little trigger happy with Copy-Paste, and gave you the description for Lot 426 twice. Here’s the real description:

Join Diane Chin for delicious eats with a side of culture. Enjoy any meal (brunch, lunch, or dinner) plus a museum visit to either the Asian Art Museum, Exploratorium or Oakland Museum of California. Available for up to 3 people.
Value: Priceless
Donated by: Diane Chin

Because You Ain’t Using Bing
Same goof-up as before: this item is for up to 2 people.

434
Laws of Motion
Not donated by GoPro, but by generous and illustrious alum Marisa Brutoco (JD ’04).

438
Let’s Go to the Beach, Each Let’s Go Get Away
Our mistake here was doubly tragic here: duplicating the item name from Lot 439, but also missing out on the opportunity to quote Nicki Minaj.

507
Oh Maiyet!
Donated solely by Maiyet.
